

Development of (economic) Value-Metrics

Why Metrics?

- comparing, comprehensible, reproducible
- Making rational communication easier.

Only multidimensional metrics makes it possible to treat multidimensional value aspects in that kind that coherence remains intact and visualizable (even objective and subjective values).

Possible to calculate with (and visualize) 2D-Values

